Police In Second Raid

London, June 9.—Another raid was carried out by the police today on the premises occupied by the Women's Social and Political Union, the militant organization. A thorough search was made for documentary evidence of the activities of the society.

The detectives succeeded in collecting a quantity of documents, books and letters. The raid was unexpected. The occupants of the offices after being searched, were ejected. No arrests were made.

Virginia Needs Rain

Richmond, Va., June 9.—The United States Weather Bureau has issued today a bulletin on the severe drought continuing in Virginia.

All crops are deteriorating states Director Evans, especially upland wheat, oats and corn.

Only about a half a crop of tobacco is in the fields. Pastures, gardens and truck farms are suffering seriously.

You owe it to your children to let them see Samson at The Bijou Theatre today only.

MT. TABOR AND ZION

Mt. Tabor, June 10.—We had a splendid rain Wednesday afternoon. We had just about given up the idea that it would ever rain again. The shower was general in this section and settled the dust and will put new heart and life into the farmers. The late planted cotton was about given out, but the remainder of this week will tell the tale. It may not be too late yet to plant, but we can get the seed.

Our folks have their small grain harvested, and the yield is better than at one time we expected. The dry weather has been favorable for reaping. The threshing machine for the neighborhood has been the rounds has been doing good work.

Rev. Mr. J. J. Miller filled his appointment at Zion Sunday and preached to a large congregation. He used for his subject the sower's tale. "He had done what he could." He was very eloquent a timer and was very forceful and effective in his illustrations. Mr. Peeler is a converted Christian and a preacher of the old school.

Our good friend and neighbor, J. W. Palmer has had a very sick cow. He and a veterinarian and we hope that the cow will be saved, for good stock can be found with difficulty now and every cow is an asset to the farmer.

Quite a number of young people went to Welcome Sunday to the all day singing. They report a good man for office, no matter who or on what side.

The Woodmen of the World of Zion unveiled a monument to the memory of W. L. Ward at the Episcopal cemetery at Pendleton May 31st. The ceremony was conducted in a very impressive manner. Hon. T. Frank Watkins of Anderson was the orator of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bowling of the Six and Twenty section visited the parents of the former, and Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Dowling at this place Saturday and Sunday.

Before the shower of Wednesday afternoon, the farmers here were very blue about their cotton. Some of them declared that there was not as much as 10 per cent. out of the ground and the fields seemed as barren as the plains of Texas.

A very few have stands on part of their lands but most of us are like the Rocky Mountain bear hunter who faced a perpendicular precipice. Turning to retreat he met a big old grizzly and he found himself in the middle of a bad fix. That is the way with us. Mrs. J. J. Rhoads has typhoid fever and the physician says that it is a mild form and that she will soon recover.

W. D. Ballard and little daughter, Lucy, visited J. W. Suttles at Level Land Monday.

The many friends of Mr. J. R. Williamson are glad to see him able to be out again after a bad attack.

Let everybody keep cool in the coming campaign and vote for the best man for office no matter who or on what side they are.

The story of Samson at The Bijou today—you'll regret it if you don't see it.

CALHOUN FALLS
Calhoun Falls, June 10.—Misses Lillie Poore, Vera Martin and Ruth Poore spent Sunday in Monterey with friends.

Mr. Robert Banks was a visitor to Augusta and Charleston last week.

Mrs. Granville Deale and niece, Miss Ethel Owens, returned here Monday after a pleasant visit to Beaufort and Charleston.

Dr. Joseph Hicks was a business visitor to Abbeville, Monday.

Miss Myrtle Wren of Due West, is the attractive and popular guest of Mrs. Hattie Cox spent Sunday at Lattimer with friends.

Mr. W. P. Harrison spent Tuesday in Abbeville on business.

Mr. George Tucker is visiting friends and relatives at Piedmont.

Miss Sarah Weinberg is a business visitor to Abbeville this week.

Mr. Will Tucker is on a visit to his mother at Barnes.

Mr. John G. Caplice spent the week end in Atlanta.

Miss Lillie Poore was hostess to a dancing party recently. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Tucker. Those enjoying the dance were Misses Edith Nance, Bessie Cox, Ethel Owens, Susie Goldenberg and Miss Poore and the gentlemen were Messrs Robert Banks, Claude Tucker, Leo Tucker, George Edwards, Willie Hester, Dr. Quarles and J. G. Carlisle.

Mountain Springs, June 10.—There was a splendid children's day service at Shiloh Sunday. After the children had carried out the program in which they had participated, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Sassard, made an appropriate address. His subject was "Missions." The community is to be congratulated on the good work the Sunday school is accomplishing and also the interest the church members are taking in the work of the church. They have recently put in a new floor, painted inside and out and carpeted the aisles, all of which adds much to the appearance and comfort of the church.

A large crowd attended services here Sunday. Among the visitors of other communities were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Tripp, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Wigginton, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Johnson.

There will be a called meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society Sunday, the 14th. All members are urged to attend.

Mr. Edwin King attended services here Sunday. Mr. King once taught school here for many years and his pupils of that time, now men and women, are always glad to welcome him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Tripp dined with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Moore Sunday.

Miss Edna Freeman, Miss Bessie Foster and Miss Cordie Foster dined with Myrtle Lee Sunday and attended the children's day exercises at Shiloh.

Some of our young people attended the singing at Beaver Dam Sunday. They report a large crowd and good singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Adkins had visiting them recently Mr. Eugene Bell and bride, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Adkins and Mr. and Mrs. James Adkins and family.

Miss Bessie Colson of Augusta, Ga., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCallister.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Johnson visited the latter's parents Sunday.

Mrs. Dodson of Piedmont visited her father, Mr. W. F. Lee Sunday.

Mr. Edmund King has purchased a binder and demonstrated to his community the benefits of modern machinery.

We regret to note the serious illness of Mr. H. E. W. Witherspoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Freeman visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moore Sunday.

The community is glad to have Mr. E. A. Stigant back. He has been teaching at St. Matthews.

Jas. M. Strickland Dead.

James M. Strickland, died at his home in Lock Mills Township, Anderson county, last Sunday night and was buried at Bethany cemetery Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends. Mr. Strickland was a good man—a Mason and Odd Fellow and was a member of several other secret orders. He leaves a wife, young baby and three sons: J. W., J. N., and D. F. to mourn their loss. Rev. N. G. Wright of Belton, conducted the funeral services. He was 62 years old, and a member of the Baptist church.

Mrs. F. M. Cox Burned.

Mrs. F. M. Cox, of Belton, was seriously burned Tuesday morning by the explosion of a gasoline iron. One of her arms was seriously burned and one side of her face burned to some extent. Mrs. Cox's wounds were dressed immediately and she is doing as well as can be expected. The burn on the arm is the most serious, but she will, it is hoped, be at her self again in a day or so. Her many friends in Belton wish for her a speedy recovery.

BETHEL MESSENGER BOYS.
From The Comlan.

A class of boys in the Bethel Methodist Sunday school meets every Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock at the church and is ready to do some real worthy work that counts. It is the duty of the assistant secretary to make out a list of those absent from the school in the morning and that list is divided between the messenger boys in the afternoon.

Each messenger boy carries his number of cards out to the different absent members of the Sunday school, thereby getting some good training in the way of service and at the same time showing those absent the interest the Sunday school has in them. The class is planning to get special caps for the boys at an early date.

A FEW SURVIVE

Veterans of the War with Mexico in Reunion in Ohio.

Chillicothe, Ohio, June 9.—While but a mere handful of the men who fought in the war with Mexico, 1846-48, responded to the call of the commander of the president of the National Association of Mexican War Veterans to meet in annual reunion here today the war spirit was dominant with those who were present.

Captain John A. Fisher of Chillicothe, president of the National Association, despite his more than 90 years, welcomed the less than a dozen survivors who were guests of Chillicothe for the two days celebration.

Captain Frank A. Hardy, engaged 95, of Piqua, Ohio, regretting his inability to attend the reunion of Mexican veterans this year wrote:

DEATH OF ROBERT M. CLEVELAND
Was a Brother-in-Law of Dr. J. Trowbridge of this City.

News was received here yesterday of the death in Cash's valley of Robert M. Cleveland, who married a sister of Dr. J. J. Trowbridge of this city. Mr. Cleveland was interested in some mercantile enterprises in this city. He was 43 years old and is survived by his wife and one child.

Mr. Cleveland was the picture of health up to a few years ago, and his untimely death will be mourned by a large circle of friends. He was a brother of Mr. W. C. Cleveland of Greenville, and a cousin of Mr. Frank Alexander of this city.

TWO GOOD CITIZENS

From The Comlan.

F. J. WHITE

G. P. REED

Mr. F. J. White is a splendid example of the thrifty young men who are connected with our Anderson cotton mills. He came to the Anderson mill on December 29, 1891, and has been there working regularly since that time. He and Mr. Reed are warm friends. Mr. White's first job in the mill was sweeping in the spinning room. He was soon promoted to a better position in the card room and was later transferred to still a better position in the weave room. He ran a section in the weave room for seven years, and was then promoted to overseer of cloth room. From the cloth room he was promoted to timekeeper and house man, which position he still holds. From the outset Mr. White laid aside a part of his regular earnings for a "rainy day." He has a beautiful home just outside the mill village which he purchased with money he has earned in the mill. This is entirely paid for. Mr. White thinks there is a great future for the cotton mills of South Carolina, who are willing to stick to a job and boost instead of knock. He agrees with Mr. Reed in his opinion that our mill people move too often thus spending hard cash which they might save if they would only make the effort.

Mr. G. P. Reed is seventy years old. He is one of Anderson county's "grand old men." He began work in the Anderson Mill on September 6, 1891, and has worked regularly in the mill for the past twenty-three years, losing only twenty days during that time. His first work in the mill was in the cloth room where he spent five years, being overseer the last two. He was then promoted to position of shipping clerk and has held that position for eighteen years. Of the twenty days he has been off his job, four were spent at the Confederate Reunion at Macon, Ga., in 1912, and four more at the Chattanooga Reunion in 1913. When asked how he had spent the other twelve days he replied that he had visited a brother in Florida for a week or ten days. At seventy he is hale and hearty, still takes great pride in his work and is loyal to the company in whose service he has worked so faithfully. He says one of the worst evils of the cotton mill villages is the frequent moving from place to place, and that the old adage, "rolling stones gather no moss" is peculiarly applicable to the mill operatives. Mr. Reed owns his own home.

LOUISIANA HAS DEFEATED BILL LEGALIZING RACING

Stormy Session of the Legislature Voted By Narrow Margin To Shelve Reinhardt Measure

Baton Rouge, Louisiana, June 10.—Attended by such excitement as has not been witnessed here in years over a measure in the legislature, the Louisiana House of Representatives late today defeated the bill that would have made horse racing in Louisiana possible. The House vote was 55 to 50 on a motion to indefinitely postpone action on the measure. This action was equivalent to killing the bill outright. Only five representatives were absent.

At each session of the legislature since 1908, when horse race gambling was abolished in Louisiana, there has been talk of introducing a bill to regulate and restore the sport. Not until this session was such a bill put forward, however.

The Reinhardt bill was introduced four weeks ago. At first it was not generally taken seriously because even many of these who favored it did not think it had a chance to pass. Its friends began to grow in numbers, however, until the whole State was aroused. The brief campaign for and against the bill was marked by three mass meetings in New Orleans, two for and one against it. Woman's organizations took action and ministers preached about it. Two hundred men from New Orleans working for bill arrived here yesterday. Those against the bill also had workers here.

Those against the bill made no attempt to marshal their forces to win in two preliminary votes, but waited until today when a motion was made to advance it to third reading and passage. This was amended to indefinitely postpone, and the amendment carried.

The Reinhardt bill provided a regulated system of betting and a State commission to govern racing.

BRITISH IN FORM

Footballers From Across the Water in Practice.

New York, June 9.—The English challenging polo team today won from a make up team by a total of 11 to 3 goals. Only six periods were played. The Hurlingham team displayed good team and combination
